“FOR ME”

In Rembrandt's famous painting, The Raising of the Cross, it is not hard to see that the artist painted himself into the picture. Many scholars believe that this was his way of saying, 'The Lord Jesus Christ died for me too.'

In fact, this is a core belief for every Christian. The Bible says: “I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me” (Galatians 2:20). That's what we all have to realise if we want to be saved from our sins. In his book, Mere Christianity, C.S. Lewis wrote, “When Christ died, He died for you individually just as much as if you had been the only man in the world” (p144). Have you ever realised that before? And, more importantly, have you ever trusted in Christ as your own personal Saviour? It's a great day when we can honestly say “the Son of God, who loved ME and gave Himself for ME”!
